

Lee Buckler

Cell Therapy Group, USA

The state of the cell therapy industry: Metrics, trends, and analysis

This presentation will review the status cell therapy industry from a number of different perspectives including the most recent data regarding the revenue being generated from commercial cell therapy products globally, the late-stage trials currently in the pipeline (by company, indication, cell-type, etc.), the overall pipeline as well as some of the notable business, clinical and sector trends

- Commercialize cell therapy products and their current revenue
- Late-stage cell therapy products in clinical development by company, indication, cell-type, etc.
- Utilize and understand overall business, clinical and sector trends in the cell therapy industry.

Biography

Lee Buckler is the Founder & Managing Director of the Cell Therapy Group, a division of CTG Consulting, Co. USA. His projects firmly focused on the Cell Therapy and regenerative medicine industry. He has over ten years of experience in the Cell therapy & regenerative medicine industry. He is expert in business development, marketing, project management, communications & sales..

lbuckler@celltherapygroup.com