Revolutionizing the world of dental hygienists

Sally Bing

Bing Dental, New Zealand

Trained dental hygienists that are fresh from school are boxed in and therefore limited in what they can do for their clients. Their mantra: "Gum/Periodontal disease is dental hygienists responsibility". This has to change it's time to give the clients tools to take charge. The dental hygienist assists this process by building a trustful relationship with their clients and empowering them by educating and giving them tools to change habits.

Result: Happy clients that are motivated to take the responsibility to look after their oral health.
