

Beware of angry employees to play a villain examination of skin pulp living with Burnside Pharmacy Institute in Pune University specialized study

Rahul Hajare

Indian Council of Medical Research, India

Low to high side category employees can villain. Top of form bottom of form angry employees has more likely to engage in unethical behaviour at work, a new study has revealed. Researcher has seen poverty during early service. Also, when working in the power politics institute in Pune University researcher observed that trustee take poor employees to bed hungry. To control crime researcher realised that they have to go to ethical college where they will get a mid-day meal.

Biography

Rahul Hajare has been a hard worker all his academic life. After his PhD in Pharmacy from Bangalore which he completed with flying colours, he is fortunate to work with NARI primer HIV research Institute to complete Post Doc of world renowned scientist respected Dr. R.S. Paranjape retired Director & Scientist 'G' National AIDS Research Institute Pune. Rahul Hajare has Associate Professor of Medical Chemistry to Pune University (until 2020), he has serviced three times Associate Professor in Pharmaceutical Science and Analytical Science. Rahul Hajare is now Principal of Ishwar Deshmukh Institute of Pharmacy affiliated to council of India.