Chakras' Energy Alterations with Patients with Hemorrhoids and How to Treat without Surgery?

Introduction: Hemorrhoids are swollen veins in the anus and lower rectum. In traditional Chinese medicine (TCM), hemorrhoids can result from Yin, Yang, Qi and Blood disharmonies and Heat Retention.

Purpose: To demonstrate that hemorrhoids has energies alterations as the root and correcting it without any surgical procedure is possible.

Methods: Two case reports: the first, 42-year-old man had hemorrhoid after an anal fissure surgery. The patient did not intend to undergo another surgical procedure. The patient sought acupuncture treatment for leg pain. He received Chinese dietary counselling, auricular acupuncture/apex-ear bloodletting and the ear's rectum point and systemic acupuncture. The second patient was a 38-year-old man treating vitiligo with acupuncture when suddenly started to present hemorrhoids as well, for his work included driving cars a lot. Besides the same treatment of the case report one, still the patient complained of no improvement. Then a radiesthesia procedure was made to measure the patient's chakras energy. All chakras rated 1 out of 8, except for the seventh chakra (normal). The patients were medicated with crystal-based medication and homeopathy according to the Constitutional Homeopathy of the Five Elements based on Traditional Chinese Medicine, created by the author.

Results: Case one reported a complete recovery of his hemorrhoids symptoms after the first acupuncture session. The second patient, only had improvement after beginning the replenishment of the energy's chakras.

Conclusion: Hemorrhoids has an energy alteration as root and treating these energy imbalances and chakra's energy deficiencies is essential for recovery without any surgical procedure
