

Dental management of unilateral true vocal cord paralysis in children

Haya Alzamil and Badria Al Matrafi

Prince Sultan Military Medical City, Saudi Arabia

Introduction with a literature review: A description of the case report, a discussion that includes a detailed explanation of the literature review and a brief summary of the case and a conclusion.

Case: 15 years old female with idiopathic unilateral vocal cord paralysis, amelogenesis imperfecta, diplopia, underweight, 15 years old female with idiopathic unilateral vocal cord paralysis and enamel hypoplasia

Medical History: Unilateral vocal cord paralysis, hoarseness of voice, no nerve damage, no swallowing problem first noticed 6 years ago (voice change) before dental GA, planned for injection therapy treatment for uvcp in 2022 diplopia, otherwise medically free NKA

Diagnostic History:

- Enamel hypoplasia
- s/p dental rehab under GA 6 years ago

Biography

Badria Al Matrafi has completed her BDS in 1992 in King Saud University in Riyadh KSA and AGD certificate in 2000 from university of south California USA. ARD Restorative from SCHS. She is a consultant restorative in dentistry in Prince Sultan Military Medical City in Riyadh. She is a director of officer dental clinic and has a year of teaching and clinical supervision experience. Head of Exam Committee and Health Academy Leadership. She is a member of infection control team, and she is also a researcher and examiner and member of Saudi Commission for Health Specialist for Saudi Board Restorative Dentistry.

dr_badria@hotmail.com

Received date: April 12, 2022; Accepted date: April 14, 2022; Publish date: April 30, 2022