ABSTRACT

Humankind is absolutely sensitive to survive in this earth. Most importantly they do concentrate hard upon their well being and the cosmic nicety right from the beginning. They may suffer from a number of physical disorders and diseases at every now and then. The fact is each one of us does look at the best splendor of this global nicety with extensive travelling for their luminous flexibilities of mind and the cognitive implications. But medical tourists do basically wonder the most significant treatments along with their gradual refinements of both body and mind in different provinces of this globe along with the noticeable global facilities in deed. Actually most of the foreign countries do have the superlative infrastructure of treatments and their adorable medical solutions respectively. Therefore most of the tourists do feel this term “Medical Tourism” as their privileged boulevard of life not only to accomplish their various physical disorders but to have the exiting environmental glory in deed. As a matter of the fact is they can have the inhabitable change of climate which is invariably related to bring out the harmony of elite class in between their body and the responses of mind at every situation. On the other hand, medical tourists do gain the absolute aesthetic magnification by the medical leaders but the wellness is concerned to prevent the diseases rather than to treat the existing conditions. Therefore each individual does have the specific criterion such as a. financial expenditure, b. time span, c. affordability, d. competency of medical team, e. country, f. climate and most notably the infrastructure. So medical tourism is not only ensuring the refined health and hygiene of a life but wellness shall convey about the colorful rituals, various seminars, workshops, conferences for their exclusive knowledge and learning. It is quite evident that this tourism firmly aims at the best treatment and their unblemished vertex of sustainability in deed.
