WEBINAR ON GYNECOLOGY AND WOMENS HEALTH

London Conferences extends immense pleasure and honor by inviting you to attend the “2nd Webinar on Gynecology and Women's Health” scheduled for February 27, 2021. The Gynecology and Women's Health webinar will be focusing on the theme “Scrutinize the Possibilities and Research in the field of Gynecology and Women's Health” to enhance and explore knowledge among academicians and industry personnel. The detailed agenda of Women's Health 2021 will have keynote presentations, plenary sessions, oral sessions, panel discussions, poster presentations, and a young researcher's forum.

The sessions will be on:

1. Childbirth and labor delivery
2. Gynecology and Obstetrics
3. Birth control methods
4. Prenatal and postnatal care
5. Family Planning

Opportunity for LONGDOM conference abstracts to publish into your full-length research articles. Please send your full-length article along with your conference abstract and our scientific committee will select it for publication in the next volume of LONGDOM Journals. Submission of the full manuscript is also welcomed. We have conducted previous conferences as well (See Image 1).
