

Editorial Note for Journal of Pharmacogenomics and Pharmacoproteomics

Himanshu Bhusan Sahoo*

MSc. Food Science, Department of Food Science and Technology, Sambalpur University, India

EDITORIAL NOTE

I am pleased to introduce Journal of Pharmacogenomics & Pharmacoproteomics publishes articles on new innovations in the field of personalized medicines. The original research articles or current reviews published under the journal deals with the influence of genetic variations on drug response in patients and vice versa. The journal aims to publish innovations in customized drug discovery using proteome technology. The journal provides an open access platform to publish latest advancements in the field of drug design, drug development and drug delivery. I am pleased to announce that, all issues of volume 10 were published online well within the time and the print issues were also brought out and dispatched within 30 days of publishing the issue online during the year of 2019.

The journal aims to publish the most complete and reliable source of information on the advanced and very latest research topics related to the recent advancements in Proteomics for cancer research, Quantitative proteomics, Translational Research, Biomarker identification, Metabolomics, Biomolecular & Analytical Mass Spectrometry, Bioinformatics Tools and Bioinformatics Databases.

All published articles of this journal are included in the indexing and abstracting coverage of Google Scholar, Index Copernicus, CAS Source Index (CASSI), Sherpa Romeo, Open J Gate, Genamics JournalSeek, Academic Keys, JournalTOCs, ResearchBible, Electronic Journals Library, Hamdard University, RefSeek, EBSCO A-Z, Publons, Virtual Library of Biology (vifabio), OCLC-WorldCat, Proquest Summons and SWB online catalog.

During the calendar year of 2019, JPP received a total of 4 manuscript, out of which 1articles (10%) were rejected in the preliminary screening due to plagiarism or being out of the format and peer review process. During 2019 around 3 articles were subjected for publication after they are accepted in the peer review process. In the 2 issues of Volume 10 published during the year 2019, a total of 3 articles were published (at an average of 1 articles per issue) of which, articles were published from authors all around the world. Globally articles have been accessed by the research scientists and also cited.

During the calendar year 2019, a total of two Editors, 5 reviewers joined the board of JPP and contributed their valuable services towards contribution as well as publication of articles, and their valuable reviewer comments will beneficial to publish quality of article in the journal.

I take this opportunity to acknowledge the contribution of (Dr. Shouji Shimoyama) during the final editing of articles published and the support rendered by the editorial assistant, in bringing out issues of JPP in time. I would also like to express my gratitude to all the authors, reviewers, the publisher, the advisory and the editorial board of JPP, the office bearers for their support in bringing out yet another volume of JPP and look forward to their unrelenting support to bring out the Volume 11 of JPP in scheduled time.