EDITORIAL NOTE

On behalf of the editorial board of journal of Gerontology & Geriatric Research I would like to introduce about the journal. The journal has started in the year of 2012 and it has continued publishing process successfully with Volume 09, Issue 6 in the span of 8 years. Since the establishment of the journals has published an interesting, novel theoretical and empirical papers in the field of elder care and ageing.

The journal wish to encourage an authors to contribute their ideal work in any of the below topic or related to the field of gerontology. The journal covers a broad range topics such as Elder Care, Elder Abuse, Biogerontology, Brain Ageing, Healthy Aging, Aging and Immunization, Ageing Process, Alzheimer Diseases, Dementia, Parkinson Disease, Older Nutrition, Social and Sociological Issues of Seniors, Older Workers and Retirement, Geriatric Dentistry, Geriatric Intensive Care Unit, Geriatric Anesthesia, Geriatric Medicine, Geriatric Palliative Care, Polypharmacy in Geriatrics, Social Gerontology, Gerontology Nursing, Adult Development, Dementia Pathophysiology, Geriatric Pharmacology, Geriatric Cancer, and many more.

Along with the regular issue the journal is also accepting manuscripts for special issue. The upcoming special issue topics are listed namely Seviarity of COVID infection and elder care, Aging and Immunization, Geriatric Pharmacology, Dementia pathophysiology, Integrative Medicine, Drug Discovery, and Healthy aging and Elder Care.

Recently the journal has published volume 9 and issue 6 with five novel articles. This issue is specifically covers the comorbidities associated with ageing such as Glaucoma, Depression, stress, etc.

From last three month the journal has started accepting video article along with research, review, book review, short communication, rapid communication, brief communication, case report, case blog, clinical trials, commentary, editorial, editorial note, editorial comment, graphical abstract, Image articles, etc. Now In this month the journal came up with a new idea to publish the interview article. In this interview article one can share their research work through video clip or through text format. The minimum word count for text is about 500 words while the video clip should be of minimum 5 minutes.

The articles published in our journal range from unique theoretical and technical or experimental papers to innovative empirical contributions, all of which are welcome as contributions to the volume 9 and issue 7 of our journal. The journal maintains an independent editorial tracking system through which one can submit and track the status of their manuscript. So one can submit the manuscript online at <https://www.longdom.org/submissions/gerontology-geriatric-research.html> or offline i.e. by mailing to editor house at geriatricres@jpeerreview.com

The editorial staff of journal looking forward to work with potential author, reviewers and researchers and their continuous support will help us to come up with new ideas. Finally I would like to express gratitude towards authors, reviewers, editors who are been working like a pillar of journal.
