Tourism Management at a Visitor Center

Sherri S*

Tourism Coordinator, University of Phoenix, South Carolina, USA

*Corresponding author: Sherri S, Tourism Coordinator, University of Phoenix, South Carolina, USA, Tel: 447031749884; E-mail: sscott36@gmail.com

Received date: 03 May, 2016, Accepted date: 26 May, 2016, Published date: 02 June, 2016

Copyright: © 2016 Sherri S. This is an open-access article distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution License, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original author and source are credited.

Concept

A crucial part of Tourism Management at a Visitor Center is Marketing and Developing the area. The main objective is to attract Visitors and generate significant economic benefits for a Region or State. Managers work closely with the local Community, Residents and Businesses to support the Local economy. Communication may be one of the most important responsibilities of a Manager to keep the workplace running efficiently [1].

A few of the Tourism Managers responsibilities includes Commissioning and Producing tourists information, writing Press Releases, participating in the creativity of the Visitors Guides and brochures for the Region they are Marketing. They must develop relationships with Regional, National and International Tourism Industries. To stay abreast of the industry, they should attend Seminars, Workshops, Conventions, Meetings and share information. Being organized is very pertinent in the industry. Tourism Managers have to prepare reports, presentations and deliver to Local, Regional and Governmental Organizations. Some Cultural Institutions are requiring Managers to have Grant Writing experience in order to receive funding for non-profit Cultural Institutions. There are many assignments for Tourism Managers. Another major task of a Tourism Manager is developing and implementing a training program for staff and volunteers. Employees need to know the mission and goals of the business and what is expected of them to achieve these results [1].

There are many places to visit and explore. So therefore, Managers need to visit other areas, study the competition and see what they are doing differently and develop a strategic plan that makes Visitors want to visit your area over and over again.

Happy and Safe Travels!

References

1. Smallbusiness.chron.com