

Insights in Pediatric Research and Vaccine Pain Management in Children

Editor

Name: Dr Stefan Bittmann M.D. Ph.D. M.A.

Affiliation: Department of Pediatrics, Head of Ped Mind Institute, Germany

Email: stefanbittmann@gmx.de

Special Issue: Call for papers

The objective of this special issue “Insights in Pediatric Research and Vaccine Pain Management in Children” is to create a unique platform which highlight and strengthen on sharing clinical, epidemiological and translational science, pertaining to current trends in Pediatric research, Child care and Pain management In Pediatric Vaccination. We invite you to submit your pediatric focused work on different age groups including:

- 1) Premature Newborns
- 2) Term Newborns
- 3) Neonate
- 4) Infant
- 5) Young Child
- 6) Child
- 7) Adolescent

Advances in Pediatric Research is a peer reviewed and open access journal dedicated for a potential impact in pediatric research focusing on clinical practice and research in Pediatrics. All manuscripts will be peer-reviewed by potential reviewers and must abide by the standards of the Advances in Pediatric Research Journal.

Potential topics include, but are not limited to: The journal also publish articles dealing with pediatric public health and social issues such as child abuse, domestic and community violence, education, immunizations, nutrition, and public health policies that directly relate to pediatric patients.

We are especially keen to receive a good quality of papers from you. Please let us know whether you can contribute an article with the topic _____.

Abstract specifications

Please submit your abstracts (300 words) to describe your research/project. This must be in Microsoft Word format. E-mail us at: paediatrics@clinmedinsights.com / Online submission: Neonatal Care

The tentative publication timeline is as follows:

Submission: Abstract May 2018, Paper 01 June 2018, and Publication July 2018